

Scroll work style 1

These designs can also be made in buttercream. For this style I find it's easiest to go around the edge of the cookie first and then work towards the center. The small design to the right shows what the design is.

Scroll work style 2

This style is much more random and when it's piped it looks much better. Concentrate on switching up the direction you're going in. Think of it as controlled chaos.